Friday collision on 603 kills one, injures nine

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Harvey, La., woman has been killed and nine people injured in a two-vehicle collision on Highway 603 between Tigris Street and Avenue B. Rhoda Bollingham, 42, was pronounced dead at the scene Friday shortly after 7:30 p.m. by Assistant Hancock County Medical Examiner James Odom. Odom said she died of multiple head injuries.

State Trooper Curtis Newman, who is in charge of the investigation, said the accident was caused by inattention on the part of the driver of the vehicle in which Bollingham was riding.

Newman said Bollingham had been thrown from the car.

The vehicle was a 1976 Grand Prix being driven by Debbie Bond, 27, also of Harvey. Bond suffered a broken foot in the accident and was also admitted to Hancock General Hospital for observation. Hospital

Community Relations Director Mary Perkins said.

A second passenger in the car, nine-year-old Billy Harvey, also of Harvey, was treated for lacerations at Hancock General Hospital and released, Perkins added.

Newman said Bond's vehicle, headed south on 603, apparently went off the road shoulder and then turned sideways as Bond tried to drive it back onto the pavement, placing it in the path of a northbound 1976 Dodge station wagon driven by Shirley A. Robinson, 38, of Picayune.

The Waveland Fire Department used Jaws of Life to free Robinson and some of the passengers from the car.

Robinson was transported by Mobile Medic Ambulance Service to Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, where she was in stable condition Saturday, a spokesman said. Also taken to Memorial were passengers Skeeter Robinson, 21, and Alex Robinson, 13, who were both treated and released.

A third passenger, 60-year-old Gwendolyn Bridges, was transferred from Hancock General to Memorial and was in stable condition Saturday.

Three more passengers in Robinson's car were taken from the scene to Hancock General. According to Perkins, Jamie Robinson, 15, underwent surgery Friday for a broken wrist and was in good condition Saturday morning.

She said Gwendolyn Bridges, 6, was treated for a broken arm and admitted for observation, and Balon Joseph Boudreaux, 3, was treated and released.

Assisting Newman at the scene in addition to Waveland Fire Department and Mobile Medic were Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Waveland Police Department.

Patients to be moved to new hospital

BY BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Patients at Hancock General Hospital will probably be moved to the new Hancock Medical Center on US-90 this week.

"We could move the patients in as soon as Tuesday," Philip Wolfe, hospital administrator, said Friday.

Wolfe said new furniture and equipment was installed this week.

"We really started moving Monday and it has really been going well but things have been hectic," he said.

Wolfe said he had expected the move to take seven days if everything was perfect.

"We plan to move the patients Monday, that will be seven days," he said.

However Wolfe cautioned the move could be delayed by unforeseen problems.

"We have run into minor problems along the way, but we are trying to resolve them as we go along and before the patients arrive," he added.

"We have been fortunate so far, but we are just taking it one day at a time," Wolfe said.

The arrival here had been expected Monday morning, they had been delayed in Indiana because of an ice storm, he said.

The transportation of patients will be completed with the aid of Keesler Air Force Base and Mobile Medic.

Keesler has volunteered the use of its ambulance bus and Mobile Medic also volunteered to help the patients be moved to the new hospital.

The final phase of the move will be relocation of some equipment from the old hospital which will be used in the new hospital.

Wolfe said if problems do delay the move, he is sure it will be completed sometime during next week.

Bay-Waveland school board to discuss building program

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board has set a special meeting on the district's building program for 7 p.m. Thursday.

The meeting was called Friday by Board President Betty Diboll. The agenda also includes professional services and personnel matters.

Superintendent of Education Roger Oge said Friday that negotiations on the architect's fees for the district's proposed building program are expected to be completed in time for the meeting.

The architect for the project, which calls for additions and renovations at all four of the district's schools, is Fred Wagner.

Earlier this month, the board authorized it attorney, Lucien Gex, Oge and elected trustee Danny Carter to negotiate a fee with Wagner.

Carter was the only board member who voted against hiring Wagner for the project.

Oge said the current estimate for the project remains $3.5 million, not including architect's fees or contingency funds.

In its present form, the project calls for addition of enough classrooms to the existing Bay Senior High to convert the building into a high school-junior high complex for grades 7-12.

No classrooms would be added to North Bay Elementary under the proposal, although the school would get more administration, library and teacher preparation space and a covered physical education area.

"The junior high would become a middle school for fourth, fifth and sixth graders, with various repairs and renovations being made and additional classrooms being created by dividing the school's former shop area."

All of the kindergarten through third grade growth would be sent to Waveland, where eight new classrooms would be added to the existing building, which contains 12 classrooms and Chapter 1, speech and special education facilities.

The building program is designed to alleviate problems that have existed in the school district "for quite some time," Oge explained.

The junior high school is the only one of the district's schools not presently overcrowded. Having more students in each classroom than state standard permit could eventually cause the district to lose accreditation, the superintendent added.

In addition, the school board and administrators are interested in moving the fifth grade from leased facilities at St. Rose de Lima School back to district property.

The district's oldest building is the junior high. The main building was constructed more than 60 years ago, and the S.J. Ingram building dates back to the 1950s.

STOP THE DUMP—Members of Stop the Dump executive committee, from left, M. K. McDowell, Denise McDowell, Secretary, Janie Hockert, president, and Mary Hockert, treasurer, pose at a news conference prior to a hearing set for Thursday on a permit requested by Waste Management of Mississippi, Inc., to operate a non-hazardous solid waste disposal facility on Firetower Road in the Dubuison Community.

Hearing set on proposed landfill near Hancock-Harrison line

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A hearing will be conducted 7 p.m. Thursday at the Westside Community Center in Gulfport by the Mississippi Natural Resources Permit Board on the proposed landfill near the Interstate 10-Menge Avenue Exit.

The bureau will hear comments from area residents on the proposal by Waste Management of Mississippi, Inc., to operate a non-hazardous solid waste disposal facility on Firetower Road in the Dubuison Community.

In an earlier meeting, Waste Management officials told area residents they had an option to buy a 110-acre site to build the landfill.

This site is approximately 1.5 miles north of the Interstate on Firetower Road and will expand southward.

The site is approximately three miles from Diamondhead.

Already in the community, a Stop the Dump committee has been formed.

In the short time this group has been established, it has already collected more than 600 signatures on petitions in opposition to the landfill.

Stop the Dump President Janie Hockert said the organization has also sent numerous letters to area representatives and raised sufficient funds to employ an attorney to represent its interests.

"I just think they need to find an area less populated to put in this large of a garbage dump," Hockert said.

There are just too many residents in this area, we have several subdivisions already developed and others are being completed, she added.

According to Hockert, approximately 200 to 250 tons of household garbage coming from Biloxi, Gulfport, Long Beach and all of rural Harrison County will be dumped daily at this landfill.

The permit requested will allow garbage to be placed in pits between 15 and 40 feet deep and rising as high as 80 feet above ground level.

Hockert said the garbage is supposed to be covered with six inches of dirt each night and a buffer zone of about 200 feet surrounding the site is planned.

But this will not keep the stench of the dump from area houses and it will not prevent the value of property from seriously depreciating, she said.

"At our last meeting with Waste Management officials, they showed us some pretty pictures of how the dump would be landscaped. They would not guarantee that the dump would not smell or that our property would not depreciate but they did promise that in 20 years there would be flowers on top of that seven-story high mound of garbage," Hockert said.

"Many people have invested their lives in the area and our property won't be worth much if there is this 110 acre dump just a mile or so

Four charged in purse snatching

Four Waveland residents have been charged in connection with a purse-snatching incident outside Kmart shortly after noon Thursday.

The four men were traced by the Waveland police Department through a car tag number supplied by Mike Burke, a post office employee who was emptying a mailbox in the shopping center when he witnessed the incident, patrolman John Wilkerson said.

The four, Jason Billiot, 23, Ray E. Billiot, 25, and Robert W. Gallion, 28, all of Silver Creek Acres, and David W. Carver of Farve Lane, were arrested after being identified by witnesses.

Burke reported saw one of the men approach Pearl Eusea, an elderly

Waveland resident, and grab her purse by its strap, knocking her down in the process.

The man then jumped into a waiting car. Burke chased him, unsuccessfully attempting to open one of the car doors.

The mailman then jumped into his mail truck and chased the car north up Highway 603 long enough to read its tag number.

Hancock County is Take Pride in America campaign finalist

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock County Clean Our Beach project is a finalist in the national Take Pride in America campaign.

Information on the beach cleaning project was submitted by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce in the national public awareness campaign to reduce abuse and promote wise use of public lands and resources.

The national awards program was established to recognize outstanding public resource stewardship projects and programs, and to provide incentive for others to get involved.

"We are very proud that the Hancock County project was chosen as a finalist from among the 520 nominations submitted," said Olivia Milner, chamber director.

The 127 finalists were selected from 39 states and 106 communities by a screening panel and have been forwarded to a Blue Ribbon Panel of judges. The panel is reviewing these nominations for selection of the most exemplary projects.

Panel members represent the presidential administration, the Congress, business organizations and national civic and conservation organizations.

The list of finalists was reported by Secretary of the Interior Don Hodel.

"These finalists represent the most outstanding volunteer efforts to protect and improve our public lands and resources," Hodel said.

Selecting the exemplary programs from among these efforts will be a difficult job, he added.

"The nominations being reviewed by the panel represent some of the many commendable activities which Americans across the nation are undertaking to care for our public resources," Hodel stated.

In the Clean Our Beach project more than 400 concerned citizens volunteered one year ago today to pick up trash and debris on the beaches from Bay St. Louis to Clermont Harbor.

Sponsors of the project included the cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis, chamber of commerce, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, Sand Beach Technical Advisory Committee and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

The Blue Ribbon Panel results will be announced in a few weeks. A ceremony honoring all nominees, finalists and special recognition awardees is being planned for March in Washington D.C.

BROTHER HILBERT FEATURED

In a rebroadcast, "Mississippi Roads" visits with retired brick mason Karl Muller of Morgan City, who tells about his early life in Germany and his experience as a German prisoner-of-war in Greenwood during World War II.

The program, first broadcast last November, can be seen at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 24, on Mississippi ETV.

The nature break this week is within the city of Jackson—where "Mississippi Roads" finds quiet, secluded spots inside the busy city.

The arts segment features Brother Hilbert Mooney of the art department at St. Stanislaus School in Bay St. Louis. He demonstrates his work in clay pottery.

Winifred Green Cheney, author of "Cooking for Company," is the star of this week's cooking segment as she gives tips on cooking and entertaining for guests and family.

Governor Bill Allain seeking poster contest entries

Governor Bill Allain is sponsoring a poster contest for grades K-6 and an essay contest for grades 7-12 in connection with the Mississippi Ambassadors program.

The grand prize for the winners will be a Mississippi dinner at the Governor's Mansion with Gov. Allain April 18.

Letters from Gov. Allain have been sent to every school principal in the state outlining the rules of the contest. Students interested in entering should contact their local school principal.

The poster contest will be divided into two categories, K-3 and 4-6. The essay categories will be junior and senior high. The theme of the contest is "Why I am Proud of Mississippi."

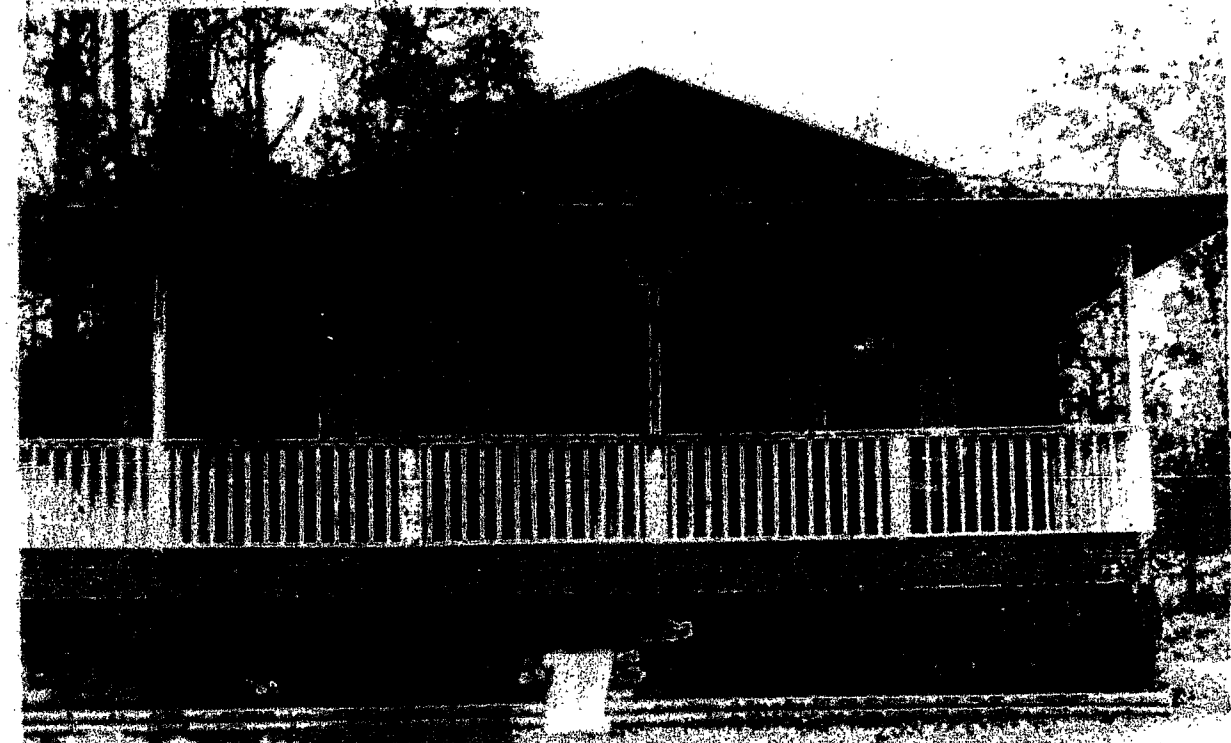

Winners will be chosen at the school level and then forwarded to Governor Allain's office for judging by Congressional districts. The Congressional district winners will then be judged by the State Board of Education where the four grand prize winners will be selected.

The students will be allowed to bring their parents and one teacher with them to the Mississippi dinner with Gov. Allain.

Waveland awaiting beach study report

BY DENA KENNEDY
The Waveland Board of Aldermen expects to receive results of a citizen committee study regarding a beach improvements within the next three weeks.

Consultant Ray Eason of Jackson, who is preparing a city request for Bureau of Marine Resources Grant funding for beach improvements, is working on the study. Eason said the study should be completed by March 1.

The study will provide as much information as possible regarding the beach area, including the condition of the beach, the amount of erosion, and the need for additional beach nourishment.

If the funding is approved, the plan is to begin work on the beach improvements in the spring. The study will also provide information on the cost of the improvements, and the need for additional beach nourishment.

The committee includes Longo, Ward Three Alderman Louis Smolensky, Ray Kidd, Buddy Klein, Vincent Schott, Daniel Caserta and Nancy Gex.

In other business Wednesday, the board:

- Heard a request from Waveland Klein for drainage improvements and general beautification along Coleman Avenue and Waveland Avenue.

- Authorized an amendment to the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District's lease on the city sewerage treatment plant, providing an additional seven years, and

- Discussed but took no action regarding additional employee insurance and purchasing new fire equipment for city buildings.

The board meets again March 2 at 7:30 p.m.

The Lithotripter: The Alternative to Kidney Stone Surgery

Kidney stones are a painful and commonplace human ailment. And, until very recently, major surgery was the usual treatment.

Now there is the lithotripter, an advanced machine that focuses low-intensity shock waves on the brittle stones and crumbles them into pieces small enough to be flushed from the body in urination.

Lithotripsy involves little or no discomfort, requires no incision at all, and reduces hospitalization for kidney stone removal to a matter of a day or so, rather than weeks.

In fact, many lithotripsies are performed on an outpatient basis.

When it is carried out by a skilled and experienced medical team, lithotripsy has a success rate of approximately 97 percent.

The Gulf South's most experienced and respected lithotripsy center is Louisiana Lithotripter, Inc., at Tulane University Hospital — created by a group of 37 kidney specialists in Mississippi and Louisiana. LLI has performed well over 650 lithotripsies in the past year, and Tulane is one of only 16 medical centers in the country accredited by the American Urological Association to train physicians in the use of lithotripsy.

If you would like further information, consult your physician, or call us.

away," she said.
Hockert was told by an insurance company representative that if the permit for the dump is issued, property value in the area will decrease by 20 percent.

There will be an additional five percent depreciation when dumping begins and it will increase steadily, Hockert said.

Stop the Dump members also said they believe Waste Management tried to "sneak" the dump in the area.

According to law they only have to put a notice of the permit request in the paper one time, said Mavis Newell, treasurer.

"The legal notice was put in the paper on Christmas Eve. Who takes the time to read the legal ads on that day?" she said.

Newell learned of permit request through comments overheard in a local grocery a few days after Christmas.

"I heard this man talking about the work to begin at the site," she said.

At this time, the group started getting together.

"We had enough signatures on petitions in just a few days to get the permit board to grant us a hearing," Hockert said.

No matter what happens regarding the dump, there is been one good thing that has come from the conflict, she added.

"We are together as a community and plan to continue to speak with one voice to keep this area a great place to live," Hockert said.

Senator Gene Taylor said Friday he plans to do whatever possible to see the landfill site be moved to a less populated area.

"I think chances of having the site moved are pretty good since all the permits have not been issued," he added.

Stop the Dump group is urging everyone in the area to attend the hearing.

NARFE MEETING

The Buccaneer Chapter National Association of Retired Federal Employees meets Thursday, Feb. 26, 11 a.m. at Gulfshore Baptist Assembly, Henderson Point. Spaker is Dale Claiborne of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at NSTL. For reservations call Mrs. Lynette Nybo, 487-7019.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Waveland Little League will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

Little League President Bernard Tusa asks that all coaches and interested parents attend the meeting.

OLD HEATING—A gas-powered space heater, one of several still being used at Bay St. Louis Junior High School, is one of the items targeted for replacement during a proposed building program for the Bay-Waveland School District. Superintendent of Education Roger Oge' stated that school officials are also concerned that the inadequately ventilated heaters may be safety hazards. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Oge' stated that the junior high has been found to be structurally sound and the roof is currently being repaired, but numerous improvements need to be made in the plumbing, electrical and heating systems.

The heating systems at both the junior high and North Bay are of particular concern because old, unvented gas heaters are still being used, he added.

In addition, the fact that North Bay's sewage lift station is already operating at full capacity has helped lead to a proposal to limit future enrollment at the school to 400 students.

Any growth in kindergarten through third grade will be channelled to Waveland Elementary, the newest school building, if the proposal remains unchanged.

The meeting will be in the superintendent's boardroom at Bay Senior High.

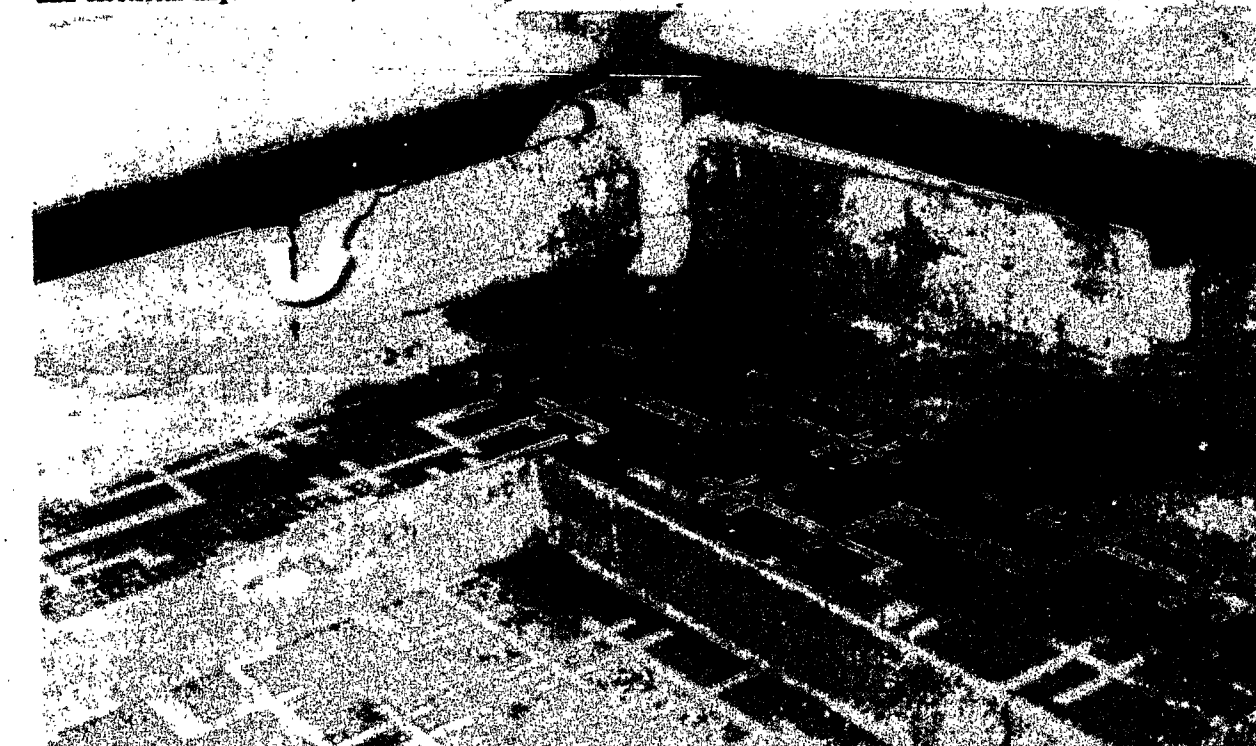

PARKING SPACE?—North Bay Elementary School faculty and staff members presently park some of their cars in an alley beside the school cafeteria. Parking space is one of the problems the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District is considering in its proposed long-range building program. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

CROWDS—Band director Lana Jones teaches music in one of the most crowded classrooms at Bay Junior High, a third-floor bandhall. According to Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Superintendent Roger Oge', the junior high building is structurally sound but is in need of interior repairs, including plumbing, heating and electrical improvements; cosmetic improvements in areas where walls, windows, floors and ceilings are cracked or water-stained from leaks; and removal of safety hazards such as broken light switches and gas-powered space heaters. The school board meets Thursday to discuss a proposed building program. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

FLOOR DAMAGE—Tiles rotted by leaks in a North Bay Elementary School restroom are only one example of problems the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District is considering for correction with a proposed building program. Other problems at North Bay include drainage, an exterior wall partially constructed of plywood, restrooms not adequately equipped for handicapped students, lack of interior walkways for students changing classes and a sewage lift station operating at full capacity, according to Principal Roger James. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Cocaine arrest leads to search, suspect

BY DENA BISNETTE

Arrest of a Pass Christian man charged with sale and possession of cocaine has led to the arrest of a Bay St. Louis woman following discovery of some of the drug in her residence.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner said Mark E. Winters, 39, of 317 Cherry Lane, Pass Christian, was arrested in a Bay St. Louis shopping center parking lot at about 6 p.m. Wednesday and charged with sale of cocaine and possession of cocaine.

Winters is also being held on a Jefferson Parish, La., charge of conspiracy to commit armed robbery, Ladner added.

The drug-related charges stem from an investigation into possible cocaine dealing in the Hancock County area. According to Ladner, the investigation and surveillance indicated that a second suspect was involved and a search warrant for her residence was obtained.

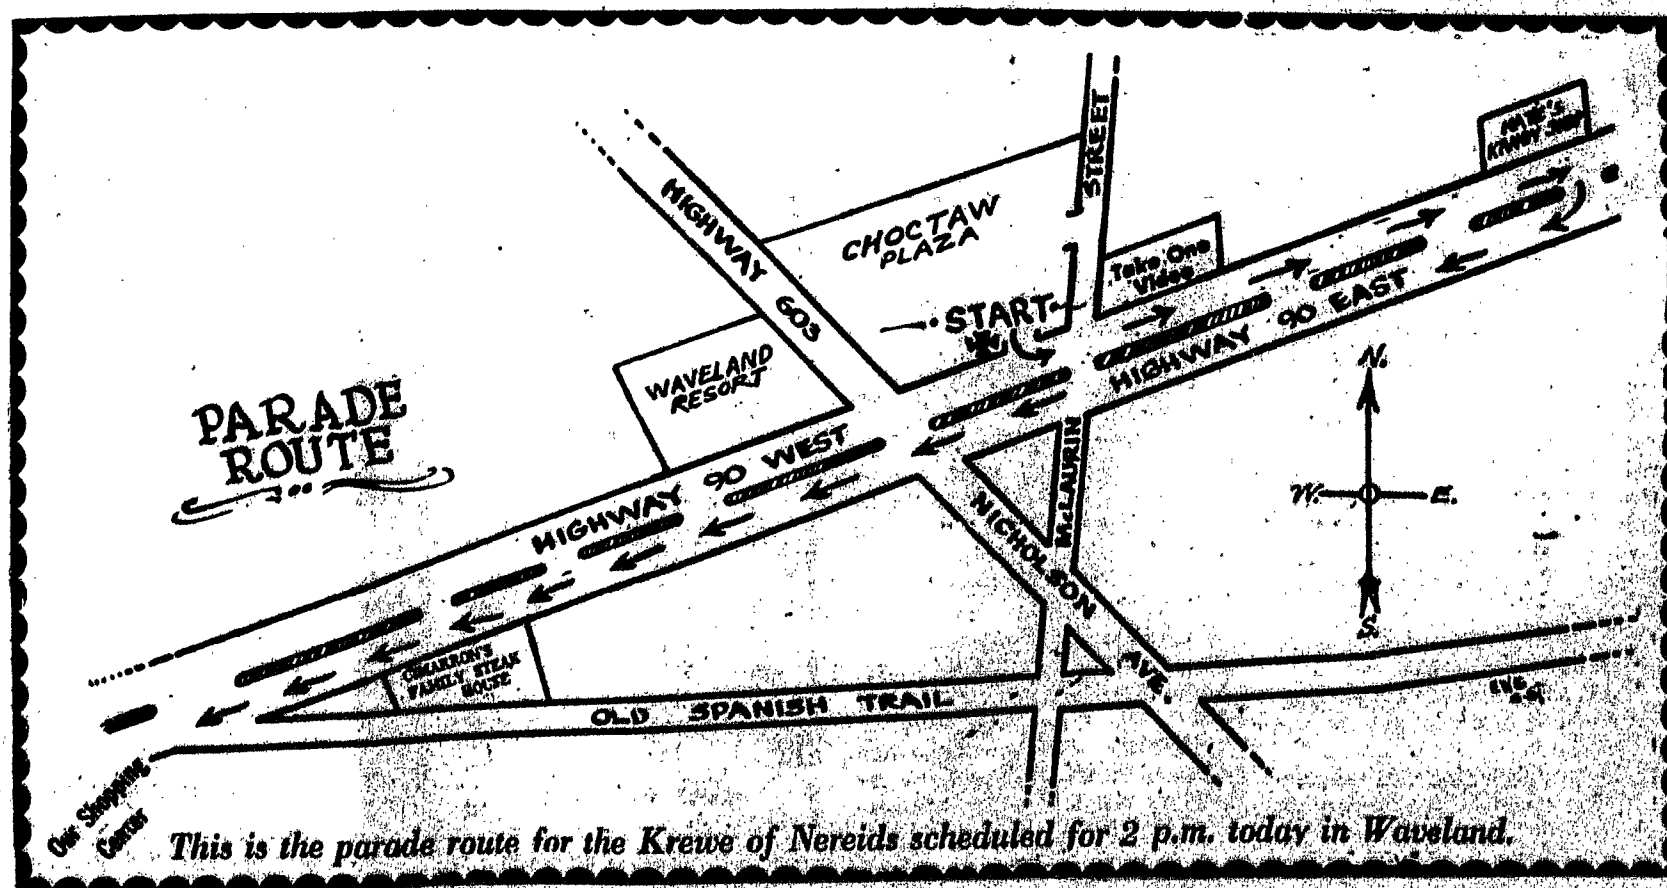

Dorothy Susan Boesner, 30, of 137 Felicity St., Bay St. Louis, was arrested and charged with conspiracy to sell cocaine and possession of cocaine, Ladner said.

The investigator said a 1981 Buick Skylark and a about a quarter-ounce of cocaine were seized. He explained that some of the drug was involved in the attempted sale and the remainder was found at Boesner's residence.

Bond for Boesner was set at $10,000. No bond has been set for Winters.

Assisting Ladner in the investigation were several deputies, Bay St. Louis Police Department Investigator David Muriagh, U.S. Customs Investigator Bailey Hambrick and officers from Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics.

This is the parade route for the Krewe of Nereids scheduled for 2 p.m. today in Waveland.

Billy McDonald named to Bicentennial Commission

Billy McDonald, Harrison County Supervisor, has been appointed to serve on the United States Bicentennial Commission by Governor Bill Allain. The Commission will direct and coordinate state activities in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution.

McDonald, a 3-term supervisor who has served as president of the Harrison County Board of Supervisors and now serves as president of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors, received a letter from the governor on Feb. 6, informing him of the appointment.

"Your willingness to serve as a member of this Commission without compensation demonstrates your unselfish dedication to our state and nation," Allain said.

McDonald said he looks forward to working with other members of the Commission, which includes such prominent state figures as U.S. District Judge William C. Keady and State Supreme Court Chief Justice Harry G. Walker, co-chairmen of the group.

"The Constitution is the very basis of our democratic society," said McDonald, "and for that reason it deserves a memorable and exciting bicentennial. This is a chance for all Missisippians to come together and celebrate our freedom."

The Commission will hold its organizational meeting of Feb. 27, in Jackson. McDonald said a representative of the National Bicentennial Commission will be on hand to offer suggestions to state planners.

Tree planting popular in first signup programs

Of the more than 190,000 acres of marginal cropland placed in the conservation reserve program during the first three sign up periods in 1986, more than 111,000 acres were signed up to tree plantings.

Agricultural officials are expecting more farmers to take part in the fourth sign up of the conservation reserve program from Feb. 9-24 and many of these farmers will also choose to plant trees, said Tim Trautgott, an area forester with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Early indications are that the acreage accepted during the first three sign up periods may be doubled during this sign up period," Trautgott said.

Farmers who enter the program must agree not to plant annual crops on the land for the entire 10-year life of the program. They have the option to plant trees or pasture on land entered in the reserve.

The forester said many farmers are choosing to plant trees under the program because of the long term profit potential.

"Based on average soil conditions and current market rates, each acre of land planted in pines could return an average of $35 to $40 per acre, per year," Trautgott said.

If managed correctly, Trautgott said farmers could get income from tree thinning as early as 15 to 18 years after planting.

Trautgott added that in addition to the profit potential, tree stands will provide other benefits such as watershed protection, wildlife habitats and a raw material source.

The goal of the conservation reserve program is to reduce surplus crop production and conserve soil by removing highly erodible cropland from production.

"When marginal land is taken out of crops and planted in trees, the erosion rate is reduced by more than 20 tons of soil per acre, per year," Trautgott said.

For information on specific questions about the conservation reserve program contact the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, county Extension office, Soil Conservation Service or county forester.

In other agriculture news, some county agents report livestock feeding the only activity this week due to recent cold and wet weather.

In Perry County, cattle producers are feeding extra grain and hay because many cattle have lost weight in the past month, according to County Agent Roger D. Jones.

Story hour titles listed

Story programs are conducted Thursdays at 10:30 a.m. at City-County Library on US-90 and Fridays at 10:30 a.m. at Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

City-County's program this week includes "The Three Billy Goats Gruff" by Marcia Brown; "Joey" by Jack Keck; "Billy Monkeys," a finger play; "I Want to School," a physical activity and the filmstrip "Timothy Goes to School."

Hammond feted with shower

Tonya Hammond, bride-elect of Chad Barnett, was honored with a bridal shower February 8 at the First Baptist Church fellowship hall in Waveland.

Hostesses for the event were Ouida Williams and Mae Yarborough.

Guests included mothers of the prospective bride and groom, Lisa Hamilton and Dee Barnett; aunt of the groom, Polly Graham; and grandmothers of the bride, Irma Hamilton, Linda Milva, Joyce Bowers, Sydney Nichols and Colleen and Claudia Galloway.

Also Ruth Gannon, Irma Cheval, Janette and Lisa Goffrey, Maggie Brown and Alida Caldwell.

Favre-Henley

First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis was the setting for the January 17 marriage of Melanie Ann Henley and Jerry K. Favre Jr., both of Bay St. Louis. The Reverend Nathan Barber officiated at the candlelight evening ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henley III. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Favre.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Gail Carr, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin in traditional styling with high v-neck collar on an illusion yoke edged with pearly venise lace and Juliet puffed sleeves tapering to the wrists with hand-clipped lace applique. The fitted basque waistline gave way to a full skirt, adorned with hand-clipped European laces with scalloped lace border at the hemline and encircling the cathedral train.

She wore a custom designed headpiece of silk blossoms and dangling lily-of-the-valley and pearl sprays which held a fingertip veil of illusion.

The bride carried a cascade of white blossoms mixed with purple flowers, baby's breath and greenery.

Melissa Dearman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Tina Mendes, Terri Favre, Terisa Everett, RayAnn Garcia, Angela Autin and Linda Kay Davis.

The attendants were identically attired in royal purple gowns of velvet and satin each with sweetheart neckline, full puffed sleeves, dropped waistline with velvet bow at the back above a full flared satin skirt.

They carried white fur muffs with flowers in shades of purple and berries with satin ribbons.

Miss Jamie Cholina was flower girl.

Best man was Jamie Favre, brother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Cedric Ladner, Robby Henley, Steve Lacoste, Pat Cuevas, Ed Perniciaro and Scott Delcuze.

Serving as ushers were Jimmy Necaise and Paul Joiner.

Jason Favre was ring bearer.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

On return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple resides in Bay St. Louis.

Harbuck-Necaise

The approaching marriage of Tammy Louise Harbuck to Dean

Patrick Necaise is announced by her parents, Shirley Metzger of Kissimmee, Fla. and Calvin Harbuck of Buena Vista, Ga. Mr. Necaise is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe J. (M. J.) Necaise of Rocky Hill Community.

Miss Harbuck attended Tri-County High School in Ellaville, Ga.

Mr. Necaise attended Hancock North Central High School and Pearl River Junior College. He is employed with Castle Construction in Forsyth, Ga.

The couple will exchange wedding vows in a 1 p.m. ceremony March 7 in the home of the groom's parents. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

A. A. Mercier, Velma Schmitt crowned at Krewe of Ala festivities

"Valentine's Day - A Day For Memories" was the theme of the Krewe of Ala as Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray Post 77 of The American Legion and Unit 77 of the Ladies Auxiliary staged their fourth annual carnival ball Feb. 14 at the post home on Coleman Avenue in Waveland.

A. A. Mercier Jr., of Post 77 reigned over the evening's festivities as King Ala IV.

Reigning as Queen Ala IV was Velma Schmitt of Unit 77 of the ladies auxiliary.

Maids in her majesty's court were Claire Conway, Mable Ladner, Dorothy Bessey, Helen Mancuso, Allyson Walsh and Ruby Thomas.

Dukes to his majesty were Talmadge Conway, George Wilhelm, William Rotherham, James Lagasse III, Kenneth Wilkinson and Donald Mauffray.

The ceremonies began with the introduction of last year's royalty, King and Queen Ala III Martin Blanchard and Helen Coleman.

The introduction of the co-captains of the krewe, Floyd Breaux and Pere Cabibi, was followed by the recognition of Commander Edgar Sauls of Post 77 and President Irene Giacconi of Unit 77.

The officers of the Krewe of Ala were the next to be introduced. Their officers from Unit 77 are Betty Breaux, Pere Cabibi, Irene Giacconi and Emelda Indovina. From Post 77 the officers are Floyd Breaux, Raymond Norton, Edgar Sauls and Lawrence Freeman who was the narrator.

Following the presentation of the court, the new king and queen made their royal entrances to the familiar strains of "If Ever I Cease To Love." The identities of the royalty and the court remained secret until their presentation.

The dukes and maids, as couples, made their entrances to traditional love songs for a musical representation of the Valentine's Day theme. Music for the tableau, and the general dancing which followed, was by the St. Charles Streetcar Band from New Orleans.

The Valentine's theme was also presented through decorations using hearts in a throne room stage setting by Edward Scanlon and E. J. (Buddy) Williams, and through center pieces for all tables which were designed and constructed by Betty Breaux who also designed and made the flower arrangements worn by the participants in the ball.

Entertainment for their majesties was provided by The Royal Troupe of The Krewe of Ala, a group of dancers in colorful costumes representing a variety of characters.

Also, special entertainers for the royalty and court were The Second

Liners who were dressed in beautifully designed and decorated Valentine's card costumes.

General Chairman Raymond Norton was assisted by Vice Chairmen Sidney Hebert, Bruno Mancuso, Jay Marsh and Robert McClure Jr. Court photographers were Marsh and Michael St. Romain.

Parades highlight Mississippi Gulf Coast Mardi Gras celebrations

Doublebons, trinkets, and candy will be flying as spectators enjoy colorful Mardi Gras Day parades in cities along the Gulf Coast.

The Gulf Coast Carnival Association is sponsoring a morning parade at 10 a.m. and evening parade at 6 p.m. through downtown Biloxi. The morning parade will feature 40 floats and the evening parade 56 floats plus bands and marching groups. Both will pause at City Hall where King D'Iberville and Queen Isobell will be toasted by dignitaries.

On March 2, visitors are invited to the Carnival Association's Coronation Ball where royalty will be presented at the Coast Coliseum in an elaborate tableau entitled "Art and Artists."

Free tickets are available for the 8 p.m. event from the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce (601-374-2717) or Carnival Association (601-432-8306). Preceding "Fat Tuesday," the Diamondhead Parade in Hancock County begins at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 28, and in Pass Christian, over 100 units are expected to take to the streets at 1 p.m. on Sunday, March 1.

Also on March 3, the Krewe of Neptune parades through downtown Biloxi at 1 p.m. The towns of Waveland and Bay St. Louis join together for the Krewe of Triton Parade along U.S. 90 at 2 p.m., and in downtown Bay St. Louis, the Krewe of Real People parades earlier at 11:30 a.m.

Visitors to the Mississippi Gulf Coast will enjoy participating in these zany celebrations that rival New Orleans for show, yet provide a less crowded and more secure atmosphere.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary was conducted Feb. 2 at the Chamber of Commerce office. Mrs. Eileen Haese, director, Region VII, was present at the meeting.

Prior to the meeting, Mrs. Haese met with the provisionals over dinner to discuss the National Association of Junior Auxiliaries.

Dates have been scheduled during February for "Project Read Today, Know Tomorrow" which purpose is to reach children in the county schools through reading enrichment.

Chairman Lisa Coward reported plans have been finalized for the Mardi Gras parade, Krewe of Kids, which is sponsored by the junior auxiliary.

The parade will be Saturday, Feb. 28 at 2 p.m. and will begin on Dunbar Avenue at the North Bay Elementary School. All area children are invited to participate.

Child Abuse chairman Judy Miller reported that three puppet teams have been formed and are currently practicing the puppet show. Miller hopes to be ready this month to begin showing the puppet show to first graders.

The annual fundraiser, "Fashion, Flair and Finery," was discussed in detail.

The fashion show will be held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club on Saturday, March 21 from 7-10 p.m.

Fashions for spring and summer will be shown from The Princess Shoppe, and hairstyles and makeup will be provided by Trend Setters and Just For You.

A silent auction consisting of donations from area merchants will be hosted during the fashion show.

Tickets for the fashion show were distributed to all members for sale to the public.

The next regular meeting will be Monday, March 2.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

TOPS No. 213 Pass Christian met Feb. 17. Top losers for the week were Kathy Etterle and Vicki Arnold. Barbara Davis earned a charm for losing 20 pounds. Gayle Arnold earned a charm for losing six weeks in a row. Total loss for the club for the week was 29 1/2 pounds.

Weigh-ins are between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. The meeting is held every Tuesday at the Pass Christian Library on Hiern Avenue between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in weight control is invited to come visit. For more information, call Jeannie Livings at 452-9706 or Lois Van Dyke at 457-5162.

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre tryouts set

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will be holding tryouts on Sunday, Feb. 22 at 5 p.m. and Monday, Feb. 23 at 7 p.m. for the season's first performance of "Chapter Two," a Neil Simon comedy in two acts.

The play calls for two men between the ages of 38 and 45 and two women between the ages of 30 and 35.

Backstage help will also be needed in the form of set decoration, props, lighting and makeup.

The play will be directed by Becky Rotundo who directed last season's "God's Favorite." Sally Rodrigue will be assistant director/producer.

Rodrigue has been active in both Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian theatre and brings experience and a pleasant smile with her.

Chapter Two is scheduled to be presented April 23, 24 and 25. Persons interested in being involved but unable to attend the tryouts, please call Becky Rotundo at 457-4371 or Sally Rodrigue at 452-4884.

Is there a better warmer-upper on damp, chilly days than a savory and steaming bowl of soup? I think not - and, since I'm sniffing and sneezing instead of cooking up a storm today, I'm pampering myself and enjoying that marvelous "penicillin" remedy for colds - chicken soup!

Chicken soup for colds was a fixture of my childhood - one sniffle, one sneeze, a bit of a flush to the face - and to bed you went, with chicken soup on the menu. It's still my favorite remedy for colds.

There are many, many cold treatments and supposedly instant cures and all that, but the old remedies still work, don't they? And, when you come down to the line - chicken soup tastes ever so good, even when you're ailing, doesn't it?

So, I was quite happy to learn - via a recent issue of Family Circle magazine, my "oracle" from the days I bought my first issue as a young bride long ago - that the traditional methods of bed rest, aspirin and lots and lots of liquids are still in style (besides, I'm one of those odd ones who cannot tolerate pills without reeling around like an inebriated bird - these birds, in fact, get drunk on our pyracantha berries, all the time.)

In addition, Family Circle reports that chicken soup is good for a cold because it has properties that make the nose run, and rid the body of germs before they penetrate the nasal mucosa - whatever that is.

So - just hand junior a handkerchief or a tissue, and stop slapping him on the back so that he'll cease strangling!

Also - as I keep telling you - Family Circle goes on to report that food spiced with cayenne pepper will help unclog a stuffy nose - or, if the pepper's too stimulating, try a steamy shower instead - believe me, cayenne's more tasty - and remember, when I told you how delicious a dash of cayenne is atop vanilla ice cream, some of you didn't believe it - but, again, I say, try it - it's a treat of Old New Orleans!

But, back to the soup - make your own chicken soup, but save out some of the broth, please - strain the soup, do whatever you want with the chicken and the vegetables - but keep some of the broth at least.

It's a basis for onion soup, for sauces, for all sorts of good things - and, once I get going again, I'll use it. As a matter of expediency, I keep chicken stock on hand - sometimes frozen in containers, often in ice cube trays, to use as needed - and, even if you're a vegetarian, it would enchant your tastebuds to steam your "veggies" in chicken broth instead of water.

With chicken stock on hand, you can quickly rise to the occasion, or at least to the challenge of the table, when friends drop in without notice. Quickly saute a few onions in butter and oil, heat up the stock, top with bread and parmesan cheese, run under the broiler to brown a bit, and there you are - onion soup!

I made a delicious broccoli-cheese soup just a few days ago, with chicken stock as a base, adding some rather wilted leftover broccoli, some rather sad grated cheese, and so forth - well, my companions obviously thought that, if I had cooked it, it had to be good - you know, rather like the Emperor's new clothes - but, honestly, it was good!

Having discussed some of the soups you can make with a base of chicken stock, let me give you this one. Here's:

CHEESE SOUP
(Courtesy of that excellent cookbook, "Pirate's Pantry" - treasured recipes of Southwest Louisiana, by the Junior League of St. Charles, La.)

1 medium onion, chopped
2 Tbsp. butter
1 to 2 Tbsp. flour
1 to 2 cups chicken broth
½ lb. American cheese, grated (3 cups)
1 bell (green) pepper, cut in strips
1 can (15 oz) red kidney beans, drained
1 generous dash Worcestershire Seasonings to taste - and for me, the ever present dash of Tabasco.

Brown the onion in the butter, add the flour to thicken and stir until smooth, then add the chicken broth and the cheese, and heat, stirring until it all melts, and add the bell (green pepper and the beans and seasonings and heat until the flavors blend. And, enjoy! (Four to six servings.)

(P.S. - I just use leftover read beans for this - but, remember - I grew up in South Louisiana! We always cooked red beans - every Monday.

February 23-27 named Mississippi Foods Week

Gov. Bill Allard has named Feb. 23-27 Mississippi Specialty Foods Week. In urging Mississippians to encourage the Mississippi Specialty Foods Association in its objectives.

The association, composed of small companies in the state that produce and sell new and traditional specialty foods, was formed in 1964 to promote their products. Their objective is to foster nationwide trade, commerce and interest of members.

"The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce is working with the specialty foods industry as an additional market for our state's agricultural products," said Commissioner Jim Buck Ross.

"There is a great demand for specialty foods, and we want to help these small companies get started," he said.

Jeff Glachelli, director of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce Market Development Division, is working closely with the association.

The annual meeting of the Mississippi Specialty Foods Association will be Feb. 23 at the Radisson Waltham Hotel in Jackson. About 25 firms are members, and they offer over 100 specialty and gourmet items grown, processed or formulated in Mississippi.

Artists for Animals benefit successful

The recent Artists for Animals fundraiser to benefit the Hancock County Humane Society was a success, according to Bill Bradford, association president.

"The officers, board and members of the Hancock County Humane Society wish to thank all who donated and supported the fundraiser," he said.

"The success of the event was due to the hard work of dedicated volunteers committed to the humane treatment and rights of animals in our community," Bradford added.

"Special recognition and commendation goes to the artists who donated their talented works, those who donated or made food for the event and those who provided entertainment," he said.

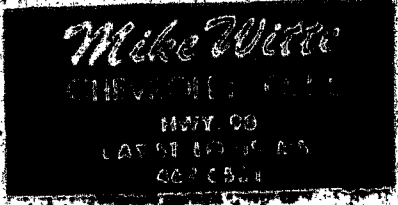

Among the donors to "Artists for Animals" were: Thyla Rogers, Marjorie A. Zachary, Nel Ducomb, S.P. Mellon, M. Whitcombe, Helde Miller Taylor, Lucy Ondreycka, Clive Whitcombe, Jenny Ortiz, Sylvia Peacock, Carl Balderhofer, Lena M. McKnight, Paul Phillips, A. Harnett, Jean Swenson, Lucetta Frey, Margaret Heitzman, Nancy Rupp, Henrietta Lumetta, Helene Mathews, W. Bernados, Briarty Archer, B. Coogan, Gerald Blewett and Maye Mecham.

The paintings from the fundraisers were also exhibited at the Hancock County Library in Bay St. Louis, Feb. 20, 1967.

Funds raised will help support planned expansion at the animal shelter. The shelter provides care for injured, ill and homeless animals, spay-neutering program for population control and investigation of abuse or cruelty cases.

In 1966, over 2,000 animals were handled at the shelter with over 450 adoptions.

Diamondhead Garden Club

At the February meeting, the Diamondhead Garden Club members were pleasantly surprised to learn that the flag used for the Pledge of Allegiance had been donated by a member, Mrs. F. J. Van Roo, in memory of her husband.

Mrs. George Cassis, trees chairman, gave a review of the Arbor Day program given at Beauvoir by the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs. Mrs. H.D. Bustetter, a member of the Diamondhead Club and fourth vice-president of the Gulf Coast Council, gave a reading titled "What are Trees For?" Mrs. Cassis also said that Arbor Day had been observed in Diamondhead by the planting of a Japanese Magnolia tree near the Community Center.

Progress on the atrium is continuing and the next phase will include the erection of a structure to remedy a drainage problem. Mrs. James Hobbs, atrium chairman, and her son were thanked for recent work they had done on it. A monetary gift to be used for the atrium from the Diamondhead Square Dance Club was acknowledged.

The Garden of the Month plaque was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Geroux, and the Commercial Beautification award was given to Lanai Village.

Mrs. George Kollasch, litter control chairman, said the usual all-out clean-up prior to the Pilgrimage would take place. She will be helped in this effort by students from Diamondhead Academy, where she will have a Litter Control poster contest, with the winner receiving a cash award from the club.

Mrs. David Ludwig, membership chairman, said that three new members had been accepted from the waiting list.

The Garden Club will again enter a float in the Mardi Gras parade in Diamondhead, with Mrs. William Neff in charge of the project.

Mrs. Wayne Wadington, wildflower chairman, distributed packets of wildflower seeds to those members who had agreed to plant them on their own property.

Energy awareness chairman, Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, gave a talk on material from a booklet titled "Put Your House to Work Saving Money For You," and encouraged members to send away for their own copy.

Mrs. Harold Morris, horticulture chairman, gave the members timely tips for the care of outdoor shrubs in February.

Club president Mrs. Jean Keen announced that the nominating committee, composed of all past presidents and two active members, would meet in March. Nominees will be voted on in April and installed at the May meeting.

Program chairman Mrs. Strabo Claggett announced a date change for the trip to Mobile to be held Wednesday, March 11, with Mrs. James Cartwright in charge of reservations.

A trip to New Orleans to view the Junior League's Fifth Decorators Showcase Home, as well as two other historic homes, is also being planned. Mrs. L.R. Wallace is in charge of arrangements.

A slide program on World Gardening was given, showing how and where CARE spends the money they receive as contributions. All garden clubs that are part of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., are required to have a World Gardening program as part of their year's work.

Learning Ladies

The monthly meeting of Learning Ladies Home Extension Club was held Tuesday, February 17 at the Home Extension office on Dunbar Street. Mrs. Millie Fisher and Mrs. Charlotte Edwards served as co-hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Norma Hass, followed by a devotional, Pledge of Allegiance, and the Homemaker's Creed was recited by members.

Mrs. Helen Stanley, secretary, read the minutes, treasurer, Mrs. Joan Gauthier, then gave her report.

Plans were discussed to begin work on the club's projects and programs for 1987.

The meeting was adjourned with all members enjoying a "Carnival Party" complete with king cake and prizes. Baby dolls were also given to the members.

Hancock County Historical Society

The monthly meeting of the Hancock County Historical Society will be held at the Landmark Restaurant on Main Street in Bay St. Louis at noon Wednesday, Feb. 25.

Begina Hines, noted columnist on genealogy will present a program "How to Write Your Family History." She will also present the March program on "How to Write a County History."

The Historical Society meets on the fourth Wednesday of the month at noon with a Dutch treat luncheon. Members and interested individuals are invited to attend.

The joint meeting of the Louisiana Historical Association and the Mississippi Historical Society will be held March 12-14 at the Holiday Inn Crown Plaza in New Orleans.

The registration fee is $6 preregistration and $10 on site. We hope and encourage the members of the Hancock County Historical Society to attend this joint meeting.

United Methodist ministers to gather for continuing education week

"A Theology of Identity-Renewal" is the theme for the 1987 Ministers' Week for United Methodist ministers in Mississippi, to be held at Jackson's Alta Woods United Methodist Church February 23-26. Hundreds of ministers from both the North Mississippi and Mississippi Conferences of the United Methodist Church are expected to participate in the continuing education event.

Principal speakers for the Ministers' Week are to be Bishop Dale White, United Methodist Bishop in the New York area, and Dr. Spurgeon Dunn, editor of the United Methodist Reporter, nationally distributed newspaper.

published in Dallas, Tx. Bishop White and Dr. Dunn will make initial presentations on the theme, and in subsequent presentations will respond to small group discussions of the minister participants. The preacher for evening worship services will be Dr. John Killinger, Senior Minister of First Congregational Church of Los Angeles. Bishop Robert C. Morgan, Jackson, will lead opening devotions on February 23 and lead the closing worship on February 26.

Four workshops will be offered during the afternoons: Education, Dr. Charles Foster, professor of Christian Education at Scarritt Graduate School in Nashville; Evangelism, Dr. Walter Kimbrough, pastor of Ben Hill United Methodist Church in Atlanta; Mis-

NSTL to observe Black History Month

Curtis Graves of NASA Headquarters in Washington, D.C., and Dr. Roy DeBerry of the Mississippi Governor's Office will be the guest speakers Feb. 26 at the National Space Technology Laboratories' Black History Month observance.

The program, which is open to the public, will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Visitors Center auditorium.

The eighth annual event is sponsored by the NSTL Association for Cultural Awareness. This year's national theme, which will be highlighted during the NSTL program, is "The Afro-American and the Constitution: Colonial Times to the Present," according to Joyce Lawrence of Rockwell International, the association's president.

Graves, who is NASA's deputy director for civil affairs, will speak during the morning session and DeBerry, director of the state's planning and policy department, will address the audience in the afternoon. Dr. Charles Whitehurst, director of NSTL's Earth Resources Laboratory, will give the welcoming remarks.

Misses of ceremonies for this year's Black History program will be Natalie Bell, a WLOX television reporter. The invocation will be given by Rev. Vincent Keenan, pastor of Our Mother of Mercy Church in Pass Christian. Musical selections will be presented by the NSTL Concert Choir.

The afternoon program will open with songs performed by Merlon Hines, an employee of Sverdrup Technology, who will be accompanied by Barbara Tate of the Community Development Agency in Gulfport. After Dr. DeBerry's address, a Jackson State University song and dance group, the JSU Expression, will perform under the direction of John Cornelius. The afternoon session will be closed by the St. Rose de Lima Youth Choir from Bay St. Louis.

The annual national observance was inaugurated in 1926 by Dr. Carter G. Woodson, founder of the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History Inc.

NASA Administrator Dr. James Fletcher said of the observance, "NASA is well aware that many Afro-Americans have been active in the development of this nation. Studying the history of Afro-Americans can help ensure that they receive the recognition they deserve."

Tickets for Biloxi musical on sale this week

Tickets for "The Threepenny Opera" go on sale Thursday, Feb. 26 at the Princess Dress Shoppe in Bay St. Louis.

The musical will be produced April 10-11 at the Biloxi Saenger by Riviera Productions.

Riviera's box office manager Mary Feamster said advance reserved tickets are $7 for students and senior citizens and $9 general. All tickets at door will be $11 each.

Feamster said "Early ticket purchase is advised for best seating as they will be sold on a first-come first-served basis."

There will be evening performances at 8 p.m. on April 10-11 and a 2 p.m. matinee on April 11. Feamster pointed out only the evening performances are reserved seating; the matinee is open seating.

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING

SAYS "NO" TO HIGHER FOOD BILLS.

NO SPECIALS, NO DOUBLE COUPONS, NO GIMMICKS.

Just absolutely lower pricing on every item, every day—to give you the minimum total food bill. Every week. To make this possible, Delchamps is taking an important step: We've eliminated weekly specials. This has been a very expensive way to attract more customers. And to make up for it, supermarkets have had to keep all their other prices high.

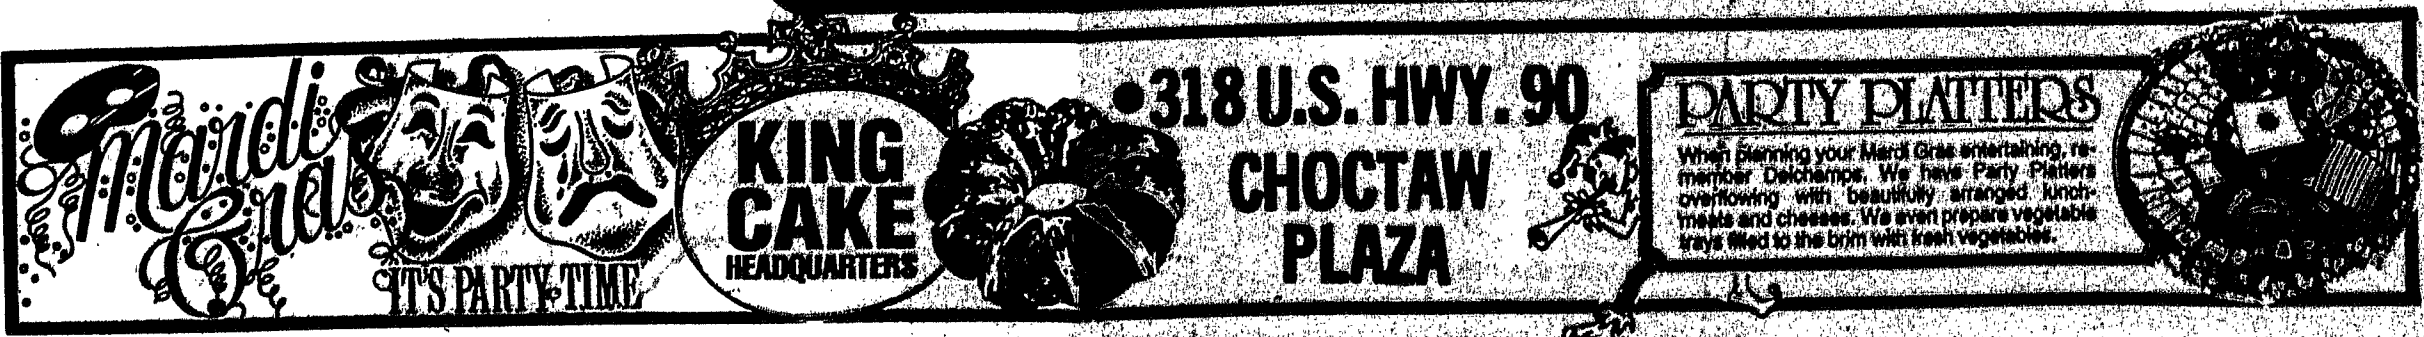

Instead, the New Delchamps is doing business in a whole new way. With Everyday Minimum Pricing. No games or gimmicks. Just the minimum possible prices to give you the minimum total food bill. It's a bold way to run a supermarket. And we're making it work. For all of us.

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING ABSOLUTELY LOWER PRICING! S.M.
